Dear Mr. Turner:

At the special request of Mr. Spero Anargyros, we take pleasure in sending you, under separate cover, a copy of the latest edition of our magazine now in its 26th year of publication.

Each year we send our reporters, photographers and editors from Mexico to a different country to see for themselves, and report on the contemporary situation of that area whose current achievements seem to us most deserving of being publicized to our broad international readership. This year, for a number of reasons of truly worldwide significance, the issue is dedicated to the U.S. State of California--a highly complex "nation", whose rank would place it among the top 10 countries of the world in wealth, power and production.

Six months in California and 15,000 remarkable photographs brought back to Mexico by our team gave us the opportunity to produce this edition.

It has been a pleasure for us to compose this tribute to America's "Golden State", immense in size, exciting in variety and fascinating as only a multi-racial area can be. It only remains to say that we hope that you find it as enjoyable and informative to read as we did to produce.

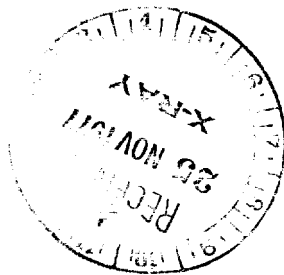

In view of the uncertainties of the mail at this time, we would be extremely grateful if you would inform us when your copy has arrived safely.

Yours faithfully,

Julio G. Lourdes
Editor in Chief
